Dear Sir,

Apologies for the delayed response. I noticed that in the PDF you shared, the contents section is marked with red rectangles throughout, which doesn't look very professional. This may be an issue on your end, as when I download the PDF from Overleaf, it appears completely normal.

Could you please re-download and sign the document? The deadline has been extended to 8th November at 5 pm.

It is not an issue from my side; but it is because you have used the hyperref package. You do not see it because your pdf viewer on the browser might not support it. If you want to remove them, then remove all the instances of the hyperref package from your latex source, check it and let me know.

Dear Sir,

I removed the red boxes around the links using the "hidelinks" option in the \documentclass. The content is now both readable and clickable. Please download the document and sign it again.

Thank you
